

LifeBand™

Contemporary medical ID bracelets and dog tags

Finally, a medical ID . . . that doesn't look like a medical ID.

Traditional engraved medical alert jewelry comes in a variety of metals and price ranges. However, such jewelry has serious drawbacks: limited space for critical conditions, expensive upgrading because of the engraving and a lack of privacy.

Now, there's LifeBand™, a line of contemporary silicone-based medical ID tags and bracelets that are fashion-forward and user-friendly. LifeBand is better than other medical IDs in lots of ways:

- easy to get on and off
- won't irritate your skin
- won't jangle or make noise
- looks like the bracelets people wear as fashion accessories
- requires no engraving — personalize your information in seconds

Each LifeBand kit comes in different colors so you can change your look. Just slip the bracelet on or put the dog tag around your neck, and then fill out the medical card and tuck it into your wallet. You're ready to go, and it looks like you're wearing the latest fashion accessory — not a medical ID.

Available in two convenient forms:

- LifeBand Bracelet in blue. Includes wallet card.
- LifeBand Dog Tag in blue. Includes wallet card.
- Replacement wallet cards available at:

www.sosalertproducts.com